Our process in Bold print.

At Bold by Nature, all of our blends are carefully crafted to create a drool-worthy meal while helping your cat thrive. Every recipe uses human-grade, locally sourced ingredients that are freshly processed. This means our blends only use whole ingredients, no filler.

Our process of formulation includes highly trained experts to ensure food safety protocols are followed; from tracing ingredients to the delivery of your pet's meal, we're passionate about the transparency in our process.

Why raw?

Feeding your pet a raw diet is not only beneficial, but also extremely palatable. Bold by Nature's raw recipes are hand-crafted to mimic a natural prey diet; everything your cat would have eaten in the wild is found in our meals. By feeding a raw diet, you may notice some beneficial changes in your pet, including smaller poops, shinier coats, cleaner teeth and licked-clean bowls.

Our facility.

We produce over a million patties per month in our 24,000 square-foot, state of the art facility. We use a nitrogen driven, cryogenic freeze tunnel technology that allows us to freeze patties in five minutes, making sure our patties stay fresh and exceed safety guidelines.

Before being shipped out in temperature-controlled trucks, every patty passes a quality inspection, so you know your pet is being served the highest quality of meals.
